Effective Estuary Restoration Symposium

Monitoring guidance, data tools, and collaborative platforms

Tuesday, May 6, 2025 9:00AM - 12:00PM Pacific time Virtual format

9:00	Welcome and background - Todd Zackey, Tulalip Tribes
9:10	Monitoring Guides and Manuals Tide gate and tidal wetland monitoring – Jason Nuckols, The Nature Conservancy California Estuarine Marine Protected Area (EMPA) Monitoring Program - Kevin O'Connor, Central Coast Wetlands Group Tidal Marsh Monitoring - Isa Woo, US Geological Survey
9:55	Data Hubs EcoAtlas - Cristina Grosso, San Francisco Estuary Institute NERRS Centralized Data Management Office – Melissa Ide, National Estuarine Research Reserves Pacific Marine and Estuarine Fish Habitat Partnership Data Tools - Kate Sherman, Pacific States Marine Fisheries Commission
10:40	BREAK
10:45	Salish Sea Restoration Platform - Paul Cereghino, Society for Ecological Restoration
11:00	Case studies Leveraging Data Hubs to Inform Large-Scale Assessment at California State Parks – Nick Da Silva, California Department of Parks and Recreationa Spotlight the Snohomish Estuary – Todd Zackey, Tulalip Tribes Wasson Creek Watershed Restoration and Monitoring – Alice Yeates, South Slough National Estuarine Research Reserve
11:45	Estuary Restoration online resources and survey - Joan Drinkwin, PMEP Coordinator
12:00	Wrap and next steps - Todd Zackey, Tulalip Tribes

Register for the symposium HERE

PARTNERSHIP

Learn more at pacificfishhabitat.org

